Public Speaking Coaching

Discover an interactive workshop available in English, French, and German. It takes place where you want, is tailored to your needs, and guarantees fast results.

Did YOU ever receive a gentle nudge after dinner from a relative or colleague urging you to “go-on, say a few words!”? Maybe you’ve already spent time in the spotlight presenting to a large audience? Or perhaps you are one of the many public speakers who feel sick or spend sleepless nights before every professional appearance?

If your answer is “yes”, then Public Speaking Coaching will allow you to transform your ability to successfully engage an audience. Whether you simply want to improve your prowess or revise the basics, the combination of personal coaching with presentation training makes this public speaking experience unique.

Moreover, it can be made available in English, French, and German making it ideal for locals and Expats who want to become more adept in presenting abroad. Plus, the sessions can be held in a first-class business location near you, in your offices and even at your home.

International Presentation Services (IPS) has developed three types of workshops to transform your nervousness into confidence:

- individual training - one day
- group training up to six people - two days
- lecture to unlimited number of people - half a day

The individual and group training sessions include:

- coaching based on the famous methods of Milton Erickson
- theory based on the 10-step approach of Volker Andresen
- practice in front of a video camera followed by expert analysis

The lecture provides an overview of our public speaking theory only.

Whichever one you choose, the main ingredients all three workshops share are professionally presented content, lots of interactivity and fun. As a guaranteed result, by using our technique your public speaking appearances will influence the way your audiences think and act while boosting your personal and professional standing. Consequently, those who are nervous about public speaking today will start to really enjoy giving presentations tomorrow.

Check out the three-minute episodes of Speak Well TV at www.speakwellinpublic.com which have already been viewed thousands of times on YouTube.

To learn more about our unique 10-step approach to public speaking, you may want to read the popular book Speak Well in Public which is available on www.amazon.com and from other retailers.
